

Living On Your Own

Living on your own can be a lot to think about. Thinking about the different things before you make this move can help make the process as smooth as possible. Decisions go far beyond whether or not to get a roommate.

Side tip: It's usually better to become friends with roommates, than having your friends become your roommates.

Things to think about:

I want to live in:

- An Apartment
- A House (multi-family or single family)
- A Dorm Room
- Other

I want to live:

- By myself
- With Friends
- With Family
- With A Roommate
- Close to Family
- Close to Work
- Close to Friends

Three Things That are Important to Me:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

Things to Learn About Before Living on Your Own:

- Cleaning
- Cooking
- Laundry
- Paying Bills
- Budgeting Your Money
- Building Credit
- Having a Checking and Savings Account
- Shopping for Food
- Safety at Home
- Basic Home Repair and Upkeep
- Self-Care
- Transportation
- Emergency Preparedness