Sleep Resources at the Boston Medical Center (BMC)

Boston Medical Center’s Child Neurology Division has developed a team to evaluate children and adolescents with sleep problems. We work in partnership with experts in the fields of nutrition and obesity, pulmonary medicine, ear, nose, and throat medicine, and behavioral pediatrics.

As part of the sleep evaluation, additional testing may be indicated. Boston Medical Center is capable of performing polysomnography, multiple sleep latency testing, and long term electroencephalography (EEG).

Our specialists are available for telephone contact to help plan an evaluation or answer questions about our services. We also have a weekly Pediatric Sleep Clinic dedicated to the outpatient evaluation of pediatric sleep disorders.
